3. Scope of the Policy

This Policy provides guidance on the Sanctions Regulations and trade sanctions in general, and sets forth the fundamental principles followed by TWF, the Company, and TWF Companies in relation to compliance with both the Sanctions Regulations and Foreign Sanctions Regulations.

4. Objectives of the Policy

This Policy is intended to provide Employees with general information regarding trade sanctions and to outline the position of TWF and the Company on Sanctions Regulations and Foreign Sanctions Regulations.

The Company expects Employees to comply with the requirements set forth under this Policy.

5. General Information on Trade Sanctions

The terms “sanctions,” “trade sanctions,” “economic sanctions,” “financial sanctions,” and “embargoes” refer to legal restrictions imposed on international trade to achieve foreign policy, national security, and/or human rights objectives. Through such measures, sanctioning authorities or jurisdictions aim to deter, penalize, or otherwise influence sanctioned parties by depriving them of economic, commercial, or other benefits, due to conduct that is considered to violate international law principles, or the values, core interests, or security of the sanctioning authority or country.

Trade sanctions may take various forms, depending on the purpose of the sanction and the decisions of the sanctioning country. The type of restriction to be imposed on a sanctioned party may vary based on the severity of the conduct, the intended response, and/or the foreign policy objectives pursued. The following are examples of types of sanctions that may be imposed by different countries at various times and for differing political purposes:

- Comprehensive prohibitions on direct or indirect dealings with sanctioned parties, including the provision of goods or services, and the freezing of their assets,
- Import and export bans, as well as restrictions on the purchase and sale of dual-use goods intended for both military and civilian purposes,
- Restrictions targeting specific sectors, including limitations on conducting activities within those sectors, engaging with parties operating therein, or executing designated types of transactions,
- Restrictions of weapons or similar ammunition.

6. Trade Sanctions Under Turkish Law

Under this section, the legal forms and implications of trade sanctions under Turkish law are set forth with the aim of enhancing general awareness among Employees.

As a rule, Türkiye is not subject to sanctions imposed by third countries (such as the United States) or by organizations of which it is not a member (such as the European Union). However, as a member of the United Nations, Türkiye is under an obligation to comply with the resolutions of the United Nations Security Council. In this context, Türkiye implements resolutions of the United Nations Security Council by ratifying them into its domestic legal framework.

Sanctions implemented by Türkiye are generally enforced in the form of asset freezes imposed on natural and legal persons within its jurisdiction, primarily aimed at preventing money laundering, the financing of terrorism, and the proliferation of weapons of mass destruction.

In this context, such asset freeze measures applied by Türkiye may be grounded in either domestic or international law.

6.1 Asset freeze measures grounded in international law

- (a) United Nations Security Council resolutions ratified into Turkish domestic law

Among the international sanctions enforced by Türkiye, foremost are the asset freezing measures imposed on individuals, entities, or organizations designated under the United Nations Security Council Resolutions No. 1267 (1999), 1988 (2011), 1989 (2011), and 2253 (2015). These asset freezing measures are implemented upon the publication of the Presidential Decree concerning the freezing of assets in the Official Gazette.

(b) Asset freezing measures implemented upon requests of foreign states

Türkiye may evaluate asset freezing requests submitted by foreign states, and based on such evaluation, may decide by Presidential Decree to freeze the assets of the person, entity, or organization subject to the request in accordance with Law No. 6415 on the Prevention of the Financing of Terrorism.

6.2 Asset freezing measures and other trade sanctions directly imposed by the Republic of Türkiye

In Türkiye, the assets located within the country of individuals who provide or collect funds for acts that constitute the financing of terrorism or the provision or collection of funds for prohibited purposes are subject to freezing by decisions of the Ministry of Treasury and Finance and the Ministry of Interior. The consolidated list of persons whose assets have been frozen in Türkiye is accessible through the consolidated lists (<https://en.hmb.gov.tr/fcib-tf-current-list>) published by the Financial Crimes Investigation Board (MASAK).

In contrast, Türkiye does not have a dedicated governmental authority focused solely on sanctions, such as the Office of Foreign Assets Control (OFAC) in the United States. Similarly, there is no primary legal source in Türkiye that consolidates all sanction-related regulations under a single framework.

Sanctions to be imposed against other countries must be enacted through Presidential Decrees, Presidential Decisions, or laws.

7. Compliance with Sanctions by the Company and TWF

The Company is subject to the provisions of private law pursuant to Article 2 of Law No. 6741 on the Establishment of Türkiye Wealth Fund Management Joint Stock Company and Amendments to Certain Laws. As a legal entity established under Turkish law and governed by private law, and considering that TWF is a fund established in Türkiye, the Company and TWF are, in principle, subject only to the Sanctions Regulations in the context of trade sanctions.

Foreign Sanctions Regulations (such as those imposed by the United States, the United Kingdom, or the European Union) are, in principle, not binding on the Company and TWF unless and until they are ratified into Turkish law. Nevertheless, the Company and TWF comply with trade sanctions that have been ratified into Turkish legislation and thus form part of the applicable legal framework in Türkiye.

In addition to sanctions ratified into Turkish law and thereby forming part of the Turkish legal framework, the Company and TWF, as a matter of principle, also commit to complying with the laws and other applicable regulations of relevant jurisdictions where legal authority may be established due to factors such as currency used, nationality, or territoriality, to the extent such laws are applicable to their activities.

Employees must remain aware that the applicability of sanction rules may vary based on the specific circumstances of each transaction, and that such rules are subject to rapid change due to political and economic developments. In addition to the establishment of jurisdiction, factors such as contractual obligations, reputational concerns, and access to certain investments may also necessitate the Company or TWF to assess compliance with Foreign Sanctions Regulations in the context of their transactions. Accordingly, each transaction may, as a rule, require a case-by-case sanctions analysis, taking into consideration all relevant elements of the transaction along with current developments and legal amendments.

The Directorate of Legal, Compliance, and Regulatory screens potential business partners from whom TWF intends to obtain financing or in whom it intends to invest, as well as, where deemed necessary, the Company's potential business partners, against Sanctions Lists to ensure TWF's and the Company's compliance with Sanctions Regulations. Where circumstances are so required, the Directorate of Legal, Compliance, and Regulatory may also screen such potential business partners against Foreign Sanctions Lists. In addition, TWF and the Company take other risk-mitigating measures as they deem necessary in connection with potential trade sanctions

8. Breach of the Policy

Any conduct by an Employee, in the course of performing their duties under this Policy, that is contrary to the applicable Sanctions Regulations or Foreign Sanctions Regulations imposed on the Company, TWF, or the Employee, shall constitute a breach of this Policy.

Likewise, where it is learned by any means by an Employee, or where a reasonable suspicion arises, that another Employee has failed to comply with the Sanctions Regulations or Foreign Sanctions Regulations applicable as described in this Policy, any failure to notify the Directorate of Legal, Compliance, and Regulatory without delay, or any attempt to conceal such situation or to prevent its disclosure, shall also constitute a breach of this Policy.

Any concern regarding a potential breach of this Policy shall be reviewed in accordance with the procedure set forth under the Compliance Policy.

In the event that an Employee is found to have breached this Policy through their conduct, the process stipulated in the Disciplinary Regulation shall be initiated, and appropriate actions shall be taken in accordance with the provisions thereof.

9. Trainings

Where deemed necessary and at appropriate intervals, the Directorate of Legal, Compliance, and Regulatory and Deputy General Management of Human Resources provide training to Employees regarding the scope and purpose of this Policy, with a view to raising awareness and enhancing understanding of the Sanctions Regulations, and where appropriate, the Foreign Sanctions Regulations.

When deemed necessary, the Directorate of Legal, Compliance, and Regulatory in coordination with the Deputy General Management of Human Resources, organizes additional trainings on updates to sanctions regimes and other related matters in alignment with global developments, and updates the relevant training materials accordingly.

The organization of the trainings to be delivered under this Policy are overseen by Deputy General Management of Human Resources.

10. Inquiries about the Policy

Employees who have any questions or concerns regarding this Procedure may directly contact the Directorate of Legal, Compliance, and Regulatory.

11. Approval and Revisions

The Ethics Committee is authorized and responsible for the periodic review, enhancement, and revision of this Policy. Preliminary work related to any revisions, improvements, or updates to this Policy is carried out by the Directorate of Legal, Compliance, and Regulatory.

The preliminary work carried out by the Directorate of Legal, Compliance, and Regulatory is submitted to the Ethics Committee for approval. Any proposed amendments shall enter into force upon the approval of the Ethics Committee. The updated Policy is communicated to Employees through appropriate channels.
